

Opus Dealership

Opus

Scotaudio were awarded Opus dealership in the summer, following two of the team spending a very enjoyable time at Opus HQ in London learning how to specify, install and program this amazing range of home automation products.

Developers/Architects

We have a number of projects under way, from new builds to renovations. Call our team for fully costed proposals and give your property that marketing edge.

From audio and video distribution, through to lighting and environmental control - Opus provides a stylish and cost-effective solution to provide your home with the latest in home automation technology.

Future-proof your home by requesting a visit from Scotaudio's design team.

Audio throughout your home

Selected for the stunning new development by Crammond Select Homes at Bridge of Allan. Prices for these properties begin at £800,000 and all have had bespoke AV design and installation performed by Scotland's leading home automation team - Scotaudio.

Extreme Projector Installations

It may have been the school holidays, but our projector team were hard at work fitting projectors, screens, AMX panels and Smartboards at schools and colleges all over Scotland.

Our favourite has to be the Wallace High School Atrium which has a ceiling so high that it was given the title 'extreme projector installation' by our battle hardened team.

The NEC 5000 ANSI projector provides a stunning image on the opposite wall and together with the custom designed audio system certainly makes an impact to staff, pupils and visitors alike.

High quality audio was assured by selecting Electrovoice evid series loudspeakers to complete the sleek and modern styling this building deserved.

Livingston Leisure Pool

Following extensive fire damage, Scotaudio were chosen to replace the AV systems throughout Livingston's Xcite central leisure complex on behalf of Ogilvie construction and West Lothian Leisure.

The project required a multi-zone sound system, with paging ability to each zone and the ability to provide different music sources in the pool, soft play and gym areas.

The system was designed around the Cloud Z8 zone mixer, ADS Fire Dragon and Jaguar speakers, TOA F-1522SC ceiling speakers and Inter-M amps. A radio link was provided at the pool side for a safe low voltage announcement system.

If your leisure complex AV system requires upgrading, from public address to electronic signage, induction loop systems or evacuation alarms - call the experts.

Armstrong Sound Masking

AN INNOVATIVE AUDIO CONCEPT

Armstrong i-Ceilings sound panels use state-of-the-art flat panel speaker technology to deliver super sound quality and optimized intelligibility. Armstrong's i-ceilings sound panels create a truly new acoustical environment

Late with the news

Scotaudio have been so busy we've not had a chance to put a newsletter together. Although there's talk of recession no-one has told our ever growing list of clients!

Sound Masking

Scotaudio were selected following intense technical competition to design and install the sound masking for a new facility. Not only did we provide the best acoustic solution, but at a price which left our competitors making quite a noise....

Smartboard installations

We don't have high overheads, and we can pass on considerable savings to our clients. That's why we have a growing number of clients over the UK requesting our installation services.
