

BOSE® Pro Partner Authorised to Install Bose Professional Speakers & Sound Systems

Scotaudio are now your BOSE® Pro Partner - authorised to supply and install the most appropriate BOSE® sound system for your requirements. The range includes the classic 402® and 802® to the latest Panaray® professional speaker systems, plus FreeSpace® background and foreground music systems.

We have installed BOSE® products in churches and other places of worship, leisure centres, conference centres, lecture rooms, hotels, lecture theatres, performing arts venues and many other indoor or outdoor venues. Every installation is optimised for best performance.

As a selected BOSE® PRO-Partner, Scotaudio has access to the BOSE® range of professional products and systems, and is committed to ensuring that the high quality of the product is supported by the excellence of the installation.

This has major implications for our customers as it will be possible to guarantee not only the quality of product, but also the standard of installation.

Scotaudio receives ongoing specialist product training and a wide range of supportive tools and technology in return for their commitment to the brand.

The BOSE® business strategy aims not only to offer complete commercial sound solutions, but to ensure that each and every installation meets the highest possible standard of excellence, a goal with which BOSE® as a manufacturer has long been associated. All dealers who sign up to become BOSE® PRO-Partners must have a similar business ethos, thus ensuring quality installations from conception to execution and beyond. Applications include hospitality, retail & leisure, education, places of worship, as well as the corporate sector.

Solutions for Schools

Visual Presenters - Involve your class

The traditional overhead projector unit (OHP) is fast becoming obsolete. Fortunately, you can now buy Visual Presenters from Scotaudio. A Visual Presenter can be connected to a projector and has obvious benefits for classrooms, lecture theatres, science labs and training rooms. We are agents for Lumens, Samsung and Elmo and can offer special educational discounts for these and other products.

Special Educational Pricing

Lumens DC80 RRP £649, our price £499

Lumens DC160 RRP £999, our price £799

Samsung SVP-5300 RRP £895, our price £725

Samsung SDP-900 RRP £2395, our price £1999

- Instantly display any document, exercise book or 3D object to your audience.
- Instantly share a moving object or perhaps view a chemical reaction taking place.
- Freeze the picture so that the document or object can be passed around the room.
- Zoom in with automatic focus to get a really close-up view.
- Interact with the image on display using your interactive whiteboard.

Interactive voting - Verdict voting system from Hitachi

Verdict is a fully interactive hand-held voting device that gives teachers the opportunity to ask the class in a 'Who Wants To Be A Millionaire?' style format. Students respond using infra-red handsets and Verdict instantly marks and analyses the answers. Verdict can be operated from any point in the classroom. You can pause at any time to show live video, web pages or additional lesson content. However Verdict is used, it delivers the ultimate in interactive learning.

Verdict System 30 RRP £1595, our price £1455

Security

Scotaudio now offer the latest in IPCCTV camera technology

With modern technology, you can view your premises from any internet connection in the world - and have immediate notification via email or text message when motion is detected out of normal hours.

We can offer the full range of equipment from the leading brands, installed and checked by our own engineers, to safeguard your business or home. With hard disk recording, stored images can be viewed remotely or downloaded to be used as evidence. Forget the grainy images you're used to seeing, these systems provide high quality pictures and often can provide audio as well.

Intelligent Home

We've taken our professional AV skills and applied them to the home. We can supply and install LCD TV's, Plasmas, Home Theatre, Internet Radio, Wi Fi, Home Automation products, distributed audio and at prices that often better those offered by the major high street chains.

Stage Lighting

Is your stage looking tired and dejected?
Need to add some sparkle and light?
With lanterns and effects from world leaders such as CCT, Selecon, Strand and Martin - plus an experienced crew to provide a professional installation - Scotaudio is ready to add some panache to your performance.

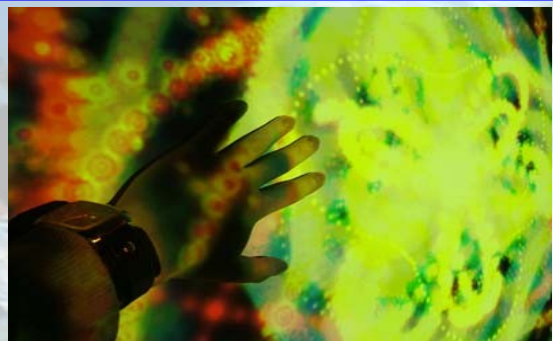

Special Needs & Sensory

Multi-Sensory Rooms originated from the Dutch concept of 'Snoezelen', and are specially designed environments which provide a variety of sensory experiences for relaxation, therapy, learning and fun for people with special needs.

Scotaudio work alongside fully qualified music therapists to provide some of the latest technology to delight and stimulate the senses of all those that use it.
